ERIE SHORES COUNCIL #460

BOY SCOUTS OF AMERICA®

New Scout Executive for Erie Shores Council

We are pleased to announce that the Scout Executive Search Committee met, interviewed and selected a new Scout Executive for the Erie Shores Council, BSA. Mr. Ed Caldwell began his service to youth in Northwestern Ohio effective February 15, 2012.

Ed brings with him a wealth of experiences in the Scouting profession, from District Executive, to Field Director, to Director of Field Service, and is an experienced Scout Executive. Ed is a second generation Eagle Scout with 25 years as a professional Scouter. His experience and team approach have helped him guide councils through challenging economic times with continuous improvement in camps, programs and membership.

His career began in 1986 in Nebraska where he served for over 5 years. He then served in Waterloo, Iowa, for 6 years before heading to Rochester, New York for 8 years. His recent service as Scout Executive of the Sagamore Council in Kokomo, Indiana began in 2005.

Ed and his wife, Barb, have been married 12 years and have 2 children, a daughter Lauren (10) and a son Weston (8). Lauren enjoys swimming, collecting dolls, and cooking with her mom. Weston is a Bear Cub Scout, and enjoys shooting sports, reading, and math. Ed is a Rotarian, and enjoys Skeet/Sporting Clays, the outdoors; and, along with his wife, is an antique collector. We welcome Ed and his family to the Erie Shores Council family as we begin our 100th year as a council.

President's Message

Fellow Scouters:

On January 18th I was honored to be selected as your President, to help continue the traditions of this great council in delivering Scouting's mission through programs and service second to none. We have two of the finest camps in all of BSA in Miakonda and PSR, well attended by our Council's units and those in 5 adjacent states. Our new Scout Executive, Ed Caldwell, professional staff, and enthusiastic volunteers are top notch, and our endowments and community support continue to be strong. We truly have an outstanding tradition, and your board and I are truly grateful, and mindful of what we have been entrusted.

As we commence our second century of Scouting, BSA's vision calls us to do more than act as faithful stewards and caretakers. The local economy, cultural changes and demographics have taken their toll in the number of units and the Scouts we serve. Our traditions and the support we enjoy provide us with opportunity and resources, enabling us to answer the challenges before us, to address the needs of our units, to broaden the base of Scouting and to develop a sustainable plan to deliver Scouting's mission for the next century. Last year we concluded more than a year's study and collaboration in the Area 2 Project with a clear consensus to face these challenges head on in an Erie Shores Council Plan for the Future. It begins with the hiring of a new Scout Executive, Ed Caldwell; and will draw upon best practices and successes of ESC and other councils like ours across the country, the dedication of volunteers, including you, the readers of this column. We have been gathering ideas and input from a number of sources, including Area Directors Marc Richardson and Richard Fisher, to seed into the process under Ed's direction. So I ask for patience and participation, continued engagement and enthusiasm. And as it is time to act, I also ask you for your prayers.

The ESC Plan for the Future begins as other significant projects continue and are completed. We are concluding the largest Capital Campaign in the history of our Council and will construct a Legacy Center. We have engaged an engineering firm to design water and waste systems at PSR as summer camp and programs expand. After day camp concludes at Camp Miakonda this summer, Partners for Clean Streams will begin their project to dredge, clean and return Lake Sawyer and its tributary to a more useful and natural condition. Many smaller projects important for our future are also under way.

We can set the right course, accomplish these projects and fund them responsibly by broadening the support of this great council in membership, volunteers and community philanthropy. We can do this with focus and dedication. It can also be fun.

I recall a Thanksgiving campout a few years back when I was Scoutmaster of Troop 254. The Scouts have a tradition of cooking a Thanksgiving feast for their families, and that year we were at Oak Openings on one of those cold November weekends highlighted by driving wind and freezing rain. It was a challenge to set up stable dining flies, a fitting dry area, and cooking fires. But, we smoked 6 turkeys over pots of cider and wood chips, golden brown on the outside and moist in the center, mashed potatoes & gravy, sweet potatoes, pies, camp coffee. . . I'm getting hungry. Anyway, we prepared a meal for about 90 and as the serving line became smaller, I saw a crew from an Indiana troop two sites over coming off the 17 mile trail on a Philmont prep hike: wet, dragging and irritated. So, I asked my SPL to take a buddy, chat up the hikers about their day, and ask them to join us for dinner. Freeze dried Philmont rations or Thanksgiving dinner? Unbelieving their Scoutmaster came over with his SPL to ask me if it was true. Watching them eat was more rewarding than eating our own food, and then we swapped Philmont stories and stories of favorite campouts. Afterward, our Scouts helped their new friends dry their gear and secure their tents.

Alone, each troop had prepared well, overcome obstacles, and succeeded in their tasks. But it took a final challenge when we thought we were spent to appreciate the opportunities, to teach a lasting life's lesson, and to create a lasting memory.

I don't know where the trail will take us, but I look forward with you to facing our challenges as we make Scouting possible for the youth in NW Ohio for many years to come.
